Rules and Procedures

Welcome to United Flight Services! We're pleased that you have chosen to do your flight training and/or rental flying with us and wish to do as much as possible to keep you safe and flying. Following are the Rules and Procedures required to be followed by all of our customers. These Rules and Procedures represent the minimum operating requirements for SAFE flying and scheduling and may be revised as needed. Customers will be provided with a copy of the updated Rules and Procedures as they are revised and continuing to reserve UFS aircraft indicates renter's agreement with the revised document.

As a UFS customer, the renter is responsible for UFS aircraft in the renter's control and for complying with all of these Rules and Procedures. Your training and/or rental privileges may be terminated for not complying with all of the following.

For the purpose of this agreement, United Flight Services and our parent company Monterey Bay Aviation, Inc., will be referred to collectively as UFS.

All customers must provide and keep updated the following:

- Proof of Citizenship: either a valid US Passport, or current Driver's License and Birth Certificate.
- International Flight Students: TSA approval must be provided to begin flight training. A single introductory lesson may be taken prior to TSA approval.
- Pilot Credentials: if customer has a pilot license (either Student or Private) and a Medical Certificate, images must be added to their profile and expiration dates kept up to date.
- Biennial Flight Review: licensed pilots must keep their profile updated with the date of their most recent BFR and cannot fly past its expiration.

All customers agree to:

- Comply with all FAA Regulations, Ordinances of the Watsonville Airport, and all regulations and ordinances of any airport the customer flies to.
- Operate Safely and Courteously in accordance with the manufacturer's Operating Handbook, and all displayed placards.
- Inspect and Make a Detailed Preflight Check of the aircraft before take-offs as prescribed by the manufacturer and the FAA. After preflight, the renter is responsible for making a "go/no go" decision as the pilot in command and must take off only if the aircraft is in airworthy condition for the flight.
- Always Use Checklists and Good Judgment when operating one of our aircraft. If customer's actions, or lack thereof, cost another renter their lesson or flight time, you may be responsible for their rental.
- Report Any Accident or Incident, or any violation or citation by the FAA immediately to UFS management.
- Control the Aircraft: UFS aircraft is to remain in customer's control at all times, and may never be operated by any person other than customer with or without a Flight Instructor who is a current UFS employee.
